1960 ELECTORAL COLLEGE

WITH THE SOLEMNITY befitting a Constitutional ritual, a procession of forty-five Presidential Electors led by Secretary of State Caroline K. Simon moved through the marble corridors of the State Capitol in Albany at noon on December 19, 1960, and into the historic Senate Chamber. Moments later Secretary of State Simon declared the 1960 session of the Electoral College officially open.

At least two factors distinguished this session. There were more women members than ever before in the history of the New York Electoral College. And for the first time television cameras and brilliant floodlights brought modern aura to the traditional rites.

Mrs. Simon welcomed the delegates and introduced the Reverend Doctor Julius Mark, senior rabbi of Temple Emanu-El of New York City, who delivered the Invocation.

The list of electors, certified by the New York State Board of Canvassers on December 12, 1960, was presented by the Honorable Milton Musicus, representing Dr. William J. Ronan, Secretary to Governor Nelson A. Rockefeller. The roll call of names by the Executive Deputy Secretary of State, Abraham N. Davis, revealed no vacancies and organization proceeded immediately.

The Secretary of State presided during the nomination and election of a Temporary President to conduct the morning session. Unanimously elected as the Temporary President was the Honorable William O. Dapping of Auburn, N. Y. The Honorable Marion Leamy of Oneonta and the Honorable John J. Purcell of Troy were then unanimously elected Temporary Secretaries of the College.

Organization completed, the College declared a recess and, with other distinguished guests, accepted the invitation of Secretary of State Simon to lunch at the Sheraton-Ten Eyck Hotel. The blessing at luncheon was given by the Most Reverend William A. Scully, Bishop of Albany.

The afternoon session of the College was opened with a formal address by the Secretary of State, Mrs. Simon. She pointed out the sense of history in the continuity of the Electoral College and commented that the future might bring some changes in Electoral College procedures, making the voting more representative.

Mrs. Simon noted that one important change in Electoral College procedure was made by New York's DeWitt Clinton who, as a United States Senator in 1804, introduced the 12th Constitutional Amendment which provides that the College shall vote separately for President and Vice President. She ended her address with a prayer for strength and wisdom for the incoming President and Vice President.

Permanent officers of the College were then elected. Chosen as Permanent President was the Honorable Michael H. Prendergast of Haverstraw, Rockland County, the Democratic State Chairman.

In his address Mr. Prendergast saluted the Temporary President, Mr. Dapping, and pointed out that his membership in the Electoral College dates back to 1932. Mr. Prendergast praised the two-party system and the electoral process and called for a national spirit of closed ranks behind the incoming administration.

The Honorable Patrick J. McGroder, Jr., of Buffalo, and the Honorable Daniel V. Sullivan of The Bronx were then elected Permanent Secretaries of the College.

Mr. Prendergast suspended the business of the College momentarily in order to acknowledge the presence of three prominent members of the College; The Honorable Herbert H. Lehman, the Honorable Averell Harriman, and the Honorable Arthur Levitt.

The time-honored ceremony of casting ballots for the President and Vice President of the United States was followed by the inscription of the Electors' signatures upon the required formal certificates of election certifying that the College had cast forty-five votes for John F. Kennedy for President of the United States and forty-five votes for Lyndon B. Johnson as Vice President of the United States—a pattern simultaneously repeated by the Electoral Colleges in each of the other forty-nine states in the Union.

The Permanent President, acting on the motion to appoint a Committee to represent the Electors of the State of New York in meeting with the Electors of other states in all matters pertaining to the Inauguration Day ceremonies in Washington, appointed as the Committee the Honorable Monroe Goldwater of New York City, Chairman, the Honorable R. Risley Dent, Jr., of Brooklyn, and the Honorable Mae Gurevich of The Bronx.

A formal resolution of thanks to Mrs. Simon was presented by the Honorable Carmine G. DeSapio of New York City, himself a former Secretary of State.

At the conclusion of the meeting, the Benediction was offered by the Reverend Richard Hughes, Executive Secretary of the Federation of Churches of Rochester.

Following adjournment at 4:20 P. M., members of the College were guests of Governor and Mrs. Nelson A. Rockefeller at a reception at the Executive Mansion.

Proceedings of the Electoral College of the State of New York, held in the Senate Chamber of the State Capitol, Albany, New York, on Monday, December 19, 1960, commencing at twelve o'clock noon.

MORNING SESSION

HONORABLE CAROLINE K. SIMON, Secretary of State, Presiding:

It is my privilege as Secretary of State of New York to convene this historic session of Electors—meeting as you do in Albany, the Capitol of New York State—while all over this country in the fifty states of our great Nation other groups of Electors are also convening.

As a Republican, I know you will understand I hoped I would be convening a different group; nevertheless I welcome you, and I appreciate the opportunity of being a part of this occasion.

We will have the blessing of this morning's session by my own Rabbi, the Senior Rabbi of Temple Emanu-El of New York City, the Rev. Dr. Julius Mark. Rabbi Mark.

DIVINE BLESSING—REVEREND DR. JULIUS MARK:

In compliance with the provisions of the Constitution of our country, five hundred and thirty-seven Presidential Electors are gathering on this day in the capitol cities of our fifty states to perform their solemn duty of voting by ballot for President and Vice President of the United States—thus discharging the people's mandate.

We thank Thee, O God, for this good land—its inimitable natural and spiritual resources, its material and moral strength, its stability in evil times as in good, a land which for nearly two centuries has been a strong and inspiring bastion of democracy—assuring to citizens of many faiths, races, and national origins, the precious freedoms which belong to every human being because he is created in Thine Own image.

We ask Thy blessing, O God, upon those who this day will be officially elected to the highest offices in our country.

Grant them the strength, the courage, and the wisdom to lead our Nation and the free world in these perilous times along the path of justice, righteousness and peace.

We pray Thy blessing too upon those distinguished Americans who received the support of an appreciable number of our citizens but were not elected to the offices for which they were candidates.

May they and all Americans, regardless of party, unite behind the new President and Vice President of all of the people in the trying and difficult days that lie ahead.

May the words of our lips, the meditations of our hearts, and the works of our hands be acceptable in Thy sight, O God, our strength and our redeemer. Amen.

SECRETARY OF STATE MRS. SIMON :

Thank you, Mr. Davis. I am informed that all of the Electors who are present have signed their necessary oaths.

I now recognize the Honorable William H. Morgan of Cortland County.

HONORABLE WILLIAM H. MORGAN :

Madam Secretary, I take pleasure in offering the name of Honorable William O. Dapping of Cayuga County as Temporary President of this College.

SECRETARY OF STATE MRS. SIMON :

Thank you. I recognize the Honorable Marie Fremoile of Niagara County to second the nomination.

HONORABLE MARIE FERMOILE :

I second the nomination of Honorable William O. Dapping as Temporary President of this Electoral College.

SECRETARY OF STATE MRS. SIMON :

Are there any other nominations for Temporary President? (None)
Are you ready for the question? Those in favor please say aye. (Chorus of ayes) Contrary minded? (None) It is so ordered.

I recognize the Honorable William H. Morgan's motion as having been passed, and a Temporary President has now been appointed. I appoint the Honorable John C. O'Brien of Saratoga County, and the Honorable Irving Schlein of Queens County to escort the Temporary President to the Chair.

It is my privilege to present to you now the Temporary President, the Honorable William O. Dapping of Cayuga County, who will serve as your Temporary President.

THE TEMPORARY PRESIDENT, MR. DAPPING :

Thank you, Mrs. Simon.

Ladies and gentlemen of the Electoral College: I only learned this morning that I had been drafted for this great honor, and I presume that it is because I have been an Elector designee by the Democratic Party for the past eight Presidential Elections.

I was happy to vote for Franklin D. Roosevelt four times because we were both in college together. I first made his acquaintance when I managed the Harvard Basketball team, and he was the editor of the Harvard Chronicle and took the day's scores as I brought them in on the evenings of the games.

I also have the honor on this occasion to make it five times—I had hoped to make it six but Tom Dewey beat us one year—we regrettably remember.

This is a very solemn occasion; it is not very often that I have appeared on such occasions. I think I want to bring a little pleasure into this solemn meeting by stating that in this past election our county gave unprecedented Democratic support. We elected a member of the Assembly and we also elected a Sheriff of Cayuga County for the first time since William Seward ran the Republican organization there a hundred years ago. We are on the move forward even if we are from agricultural communities. I think you realize that happened in a great many other upstate areas.

At this point, I recognize the Honorable Mae Gurevich of Bronx County to nominate Temporary Secretaries.

HONORABLE MAE GUREVICH :

I offer the names of the Honorable Marion Leamy of Otsego County, and the Honorable John J. Purcell of Rensselaer County, as Temporary Secretaries of the College.

THE TEMPORARY PRESIDENT, MR. DAPPING :

I recognize the Honorable John J. Lynch.

HONORABLE JOHN J. LYNCH :

I second the nomination that the Honorable Marion Leamy and the Honorable John J. Purcell be Temporary Secretaries of this College.

THE TEMPORARY PRESIDENT, MR. DAPPING :

You have heard the nominations made for the two Temporary Secretaries. I ask are there any other nominations? (None) Are you ready for the question? Those in favor please say aye. (Chorus of ayes) Opposed? (None) There being no opposition the motion is carried, and I ask the Temporary Secretaries, duly elected, to take their places on the dais.

You have heard the roll call; there are no vacancies so there will be no necessity to fill any vacancies. I therefore, formally announce that the full delegation of forty-five electors from New York State are accredited and present.

MARION K. LEAMY
Temporary Secretary

JOHN J. PURCELL
Temporary Secretary

I now introduce Mrs. Simon, our Secretary of State, who wishes to say a few words.

SECRETARY OF STATE CAROLINE K. SIMON:

Thank you, Mr. President.

I wish to verbally extend an invitation, already extended to each of you in writing, to join me at luncheon at the Sheraton-Ten Eyck Hotel immediately after the adjournment of this morning's session. Cars have been provided to take you to the hotel.

I hope that I shall have the pleasure of greeting each one of you at luncheon immediately after this session adjourns. After the luncheon we will reconvene here promptly.

Thank you, sir.

THE TEMPORARY PRESIDENT, MR. DAPPING:

I recognize the Honorable Averell Harriman of Orange County.

HONORABLE AVERELL HARRIMAN:

It gives me great pleasure to move to accept the gracious invitation of Secretary of State Simon.

THE TEMPORARY PRESIDENT, MR. DAPPING:

The Chair recognizes the Honorable Helen A. Sharkey of Kings County.

HONORABLE HELEN A. SHARKEY:

I second the motion that the members of the College accept the Secretary of State's invitation to luncheon.

THE TEMPORARY PRESIDENT, MR. DAPPING:

Motion has been moved and seconded. Those in favor of accepting the invitation so graciously offered signify by saying aye. (Chorus of ayes) I hear no noes. I now recognize the Honorable Edythe Cashmore of Kings County, who will make a motion.

HONORABLE EDYTHER CASHMORE:

I move that the Electoral College now recess in order that we may accept Mrs. Simon's invitation, and that we reconvene at 2:30 o'clock.

THE TEMPORARY PRESIDENT, MR. DAPPING:

I recognize the Honorable Henry A. Toppin of New York County.

HONORABLE HENRY A. TOPPIN:

I second the motion that recess be declared for luncheon.

THE TEMPORARY PRESIDENT, MR. DAPPING:

All those in favor of this motion signify by saying aye. (Chorus of ayes) I hear no noes. Therefore, we are temporarily adjourning until 2:30 o'clock this afternoon.

SECRETARY OF STATE MRS. SIMON:

Mr. Dapping, ladies and gentlemen: May I ask you to give us the courtesy of a few moments of your time so that the photographers can record in an appropriate way this historic session. The photographers have asked that you group yourselves in a way they have deemed the most effective to photograph you. I understand you are to move forward and sit in the press seats on the lower dais. If it is possible for you to do that now, I am sure they will be appreciative.

Thank you, Mr. Dapping.

(The morning session was recessed at 12:30 p. m. o'clock.)

Luncheon at Sheraton-Ten Eyck Hotel—Secretary of State Caroline K. Simon, host

AFTERNOON SESSION

Called to order at 2:45 p. m., Monday, December 19, 1960, in the Senate Chamber of the State Capitol, Albany, N. Y.

SECRETARY OF STATE MRS. SIMON :

May I ask if we are ready to reconvene, and if so, Mr. Dapping, our Temporary President, will you do so?

THE TEMPORARY PRESIDENT, MR. DAPPING :

My first pleasant duty is to introduce the Honorable Caroline K. Simon, our Secretary of State. Mrs. Simon.

SECRETARY OF STATE MRS. SIMON :

Thank you, Mr. Dapping.

We had the privilege of a blessing from the Most Reverend William A. Scully, Bishop of Albany, at the luncheon. I have asked that his blessing be included in the record of this College.

BISHOP WILLIAM A. SCULLY :

"In the Name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Ghost, Amen."

"Bless us, O Lord, and these Thy gifts, which we are about to receive from Thy bounty. Through Christ Our Lord. Amen."

SECRETARY OF STATE MRS. SIMON :

Members of the Clergy, Members of the 1960 Electoral College, Distinguished Guests, Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am very conscious, and I know you are, of a sense of history in our meeting here today. By our presence here we become a part of events which are recorded for posterity. In the ritual which governs the actions of the Electoral College we identify ourselves with our country's past, and link it with the trials and triumphs of the unknown future.

There is something reassuring about the dynamics of ritual, whether it is in the home, or in religion, or in government. It provides continuity, and when we participate in its ceremonies we are conscious of the ideals and moral purpose that make us what we are, and which perpetuate the institutions that distinguish us.

This sense of history, this continuity, are with us today in this historic Senate Chamber in which we meet. There has been learned debate here, and meeting and clash of distinguished minds. Government has been moulded and shaped here.

Here, through the years, dedicated men have labored to enact the laws which would bring to the people of our State the highest realities of the American dream.

It is fitting and proper that we come here today to participate in this traditional ceremony, a symbol of the orderly process of our American way.

After every national election, particularly the close ones, there is much spirited discussion about the part which the Electoral College plays in the present constitutional method of electing the President and Vice President of the United States. Some feel so strongly that they would abolish the Electoral College, and have direct elections. Some feel the system should be drastically altered. Some say there should be no change at all.

The ideal, admittedly, is difficult to attain, but times do change. It is entirely possible that the future will see far-reaching alterations, possibly with the intent of giving more accurate reflection of the popular vote.

One important alteration in the Electoral College institution was made years ago, and it was promoted, interestingly enough, by New York's own DeWitt Clinton. In 1804, as a United States Senator, he introduced the 12th Constitutional Amendment which provides that the College shall vote separately for President and Vice President. It is this procedure that we shall follow here today.

In the midst of change, the fundamental system by which free men choose their leadership will remain. It is a system watched with envy by part of the world, and with hatred by another part which would go to any extreme to abolish it, fearing it as a threat to their self-seeking, Godless aspirations.

This conflict of beliefs between freedom and regimentation strengthens our determination to demonstrate to our world neighbors the workability of our system. Thanks to improvements in communications, more and more of a watching world are learning that the United States is more than an abstract symbol of Democracy, that it is a country of freedom-loving people who periodically pause and, in concert, give expression to their hopes and aspirations as a mandate to their representatives. That these expressions of the people's will are gladly respected and obeyed by their leaders is the wonder and inspiration of the world. The people have spoken. We are gathered here today to obey their mandate.

After the campaign and the final steps of the electoral process, there is an end to the political strife and struggle characteristic of an American election. We, as Americans, then rise above party lines and partisan conflict and unite in our efforts toward making the American ideal a greater reality for all our citizens.

We do all this by peaceful means. No revolution is needed for us to change from one party to the other. This is our example to less fortunate nations of the world. And although total agreement doesn't result we know that whichever party is in power, our goal remains fixed. By alternate paths do we ascend to our ideal.

As evidence that we move towards that ideal for all people, I, as a woman Secretary of State, congratulate the 1960 Electoral College on having more women members than ever before in history. This surely gives an added significance to this occasion. And, as a Republican, I join you in the prayer that God give John F. Kennedy and Lyndon B. Johnson wisdom and strength to fulfill their awesome responsibilities as President and Vice President of this—the United States. Thank you.

THE TEMPORARY PRESIDENT, MR. DAPPING:

The Chair announces the next order of business will be the election of a Permanent President. I recognize the Honorable Frank A. Sedita of Erie County, who will make a motion to nominate the Permanent President.

HONORABLE FRANK A. SEDITA:

Mr. Dapping, Mrs. Simon, Your Excellency Bishop Scully, Reverend Clergy, Ladies and Gentlemen of this College: It is my privilege, pleasure, and honor to nominate as Permanent President of this New York State 1960 Electoral College the highly competent and hard-working gentleman from Rockland County, our Democratic State Chairman, the Honorable Michael H. Prendergast.

THE TEMPORARY PRESIDENT, MR. DAPPING:

The chair recognizes the Honorable John I. Snyder, Jr., of Suffolk County who will second the nomination.

HONORABLE JOHN I. SNYDER, JR.:

It is my very great honor to second the nomination of Michael H. Prendergast as Permanent President of this College.

THE TEMPORARY PRESIDENT, MR. DAPPING:

Are there any further nominations? (None) All those favoring the unanimous election of the Honorable Michael H. Prendergast as Permanent President of the College indicate in the usual manner. (Chorus of ayes) None to the contrary? (None) It is so ordered.

The Chair appoints the Honorable John C. O'Brien of Saratoga County and the Honorable Irving Schlein of Queens County to escort Mr. Prendergast to the Chair.

THE PERMANENT PRESIDENT, MR. PRENDERGAST:

Mr. Dapping, Mrs. Simon, Reverend Members of the Clergy, Fellow Members of the Electoral College, Distinguished Guests, and Ladies and Gentlemen assembled here this afternoon:

It is indeed a great personal privilege for me to have this high honor—the honor of presiding over such an historic assemblage for so historic a purpose.

I must add, this being my first experience as an Elector, that I am very much the freshman to our distinguished senior member, Mr. Dapping, whose electoral membership dates back to 1932—with a few years out for Republican behaviour in New York State.

I know Mrs. Simon will forgive a moment of partisanship if I say that we are indeed happy to welcome back Mr. Dapping and the Democratic Party to voting membership in this traditional body.

It is on behalf of my fellow Democrats in every one of the sixty-two counties in this State that I accept the honor of presiding with most humble and sincere appreciation.

We assemble here today in the State Capitol to formally cast New York State's forty-five electoral votes in confirmation of the choice of the people for our party's two great spokesmen, President-elect John F. Kennedy and Vice President-elect Lyndon B. Johnson.

It is indeed a proud privilege that we and the members of the Electoral College in the forty-nine other states have today.

It is a solemn occasion steeped with the philosophy and tradition that is the very bulwark of our democratic representative process.

I think all of us can benefit today from an understanding of the principle of our two-party system of democracy which underlies this meeting—a principle and a philosophy which all of the peoples of the world, the enslaved and the freedom-loving alike—are observing with unprecedented interest.

Today's meeting is an extension of our philosophy of government—of free people in a free Republic—freely casting their votes for the representatives of their choice.

When we officially ballot forty-five electoral votes what we are doing, in essence, is the bidding of the citizens of New York State.

It has long been a proud boast of Americans that theirs is a country in which the people rule through the representative process.

Ours is a government of the people in the sense that the citizenry is the final authority, with power not only as a matter of law, but in practical fact.

Our function here today is the final stroke of this great democratic process, and we should approach our unique task with this grave responsibility in mind.

We are the instrumentalities of popular control that is so uniquely an American heritage, and thank God for it.

As Americans first and partisans second we also join together to pray that Almighty God will give the President-elect and the Vice President-elect continuing wisdom to fulfill their awesome responsibilities in a national spirit of closed ranks.

Thank you very much.

The next order of business is the nomination of Permanent Secretaries.

The Chair takes a great deal of pleasure in recognizing one of our distinguished citizens from Westchester County, the Honorable Harold T. Garrity.

HONORABLE HAROLD T. GARRITY :

Mr. Chairman, it is my pleasure to present the names of the Honorable Patrick J. McGroder, Jr., of Erie County, and the Honorable Daniel V. Sullivan of Bronx County as Permanent Secretaries of this College.

THE PERMANENT PRESIDENT, MR. PRENDERGAST :

The Chair recognizes now another distinguished citizen—the Honorable William A. Zeck of Rockland County.

HONORABLE WILLIAM A. ZECK :

Mr. President, I am very happy to second the nominations of Honorable Patrick J. McGroder, Jr., and Honorable Daniel V. Sullivan as Permanent Secretaries of this College.

THE PERMANENT PRESIDENT, MR. PRENDERGAST :

Are there any further nominations? (None) Nominations are closed.

All those in favor of the motion, please indicate in the usual way. (Chorus of ayes) Contrary? (None) It is so carried.

It is with a great deal of pleasure that I announce that Mr. McGroder and Mr. Sullivan are the Permanent Secretaries of this body, and I would request that they come from their present seats to this section of the chamber.

It is the pleasure of the Chair at this time to once again present to the Electoral College a very distinguished lady, a very gracious host, and a very able Secretary of State—Mrs. Simon.

SECRETARY OF STATE MRS. SIMON :

Thank you, Mr. President. It is my privilege, as Secretary of State, to present to the President of the Electoral College a gavel, and I take it he will not need to use it too strongly to keep order. As a permanent memento of this historic occasion, this gavel is inscribed: The Honorable Michael H. Prendergast—Permanent President of the New York State 1960 Electoral College, and I now give it to him. (Applause)

THE PERMANENT PRESIDENT, MR. PRENDERGAST :

Thank you, Mrs. Simon.

SECRETARY OF STATE, MRS. SIMON :

And now it is my privilege to present to you, sir, the lists of those certified as Electors by his Excellency, the Governor of the State of New York, Nelson A. Rockefeller.

THE PERMANENT PRESIDENT, MR. PRENDERGAST :

If I may digress for a moment, I would like to acknowledge the presence of a few of our most distinguished citizens who are members of the College, and whom I would like to call upon either to take a bow or to say a few words.

First of all, I would like to introduce to you a former Governor of the State of New York, a former United States Senator from the State of New York, a distinguished public servant for many years, the Honorable Herbert H. Lehman.

HONORABLE HERBERT H. LEHMAN:

Mr. President, I thank you for your generous introduction. I am very happy to be here today in Albany with Mrs. Lehman. We spent fourteen of the happiest years of our lives here. I am happy for another reason; that is the privilege which is to be mine to vote for the candidates of the Democratic Party. I have had the privilege of working with these two great men, and, therefore, I am proud to cast my vote for them; but of more importance, of course, I wish to vote for John F. Kennedy and Lyndon B. Johnson because of a deep conviction: I am convinced that these two men will make a great President and a great Vice President.

I consider it a very great honor and privilege to cast my votes in their favor. Thank you.

THE PERMANENT PRESIDENT, MR. PRENDERGAST:

Thank you, Governor Lehman. The Chair takes a great deal of pleasure in introducing to you now another former Governor of the State of New York, another distinguished public servant, indeed, a world statesman whose name is known throughout every country in the world—the Honorable Averell Harriman.

HONORABLE AVERELL HARRIMAN:

Assembled members of the Electoral College: This is a momentous occasion for which we are gathered today. The world is looking to the United States for leadership, and the action which we here in New York State, and in the other states in the Union, will take today will decide the cause of the President and Vice President of the United States. Rarely in an hour in history have there been more problems which our country and the people of the free world face.

I believe that the action we take today in casting our ballots for John F. Kennedy and Lyndon B. Johnson will be a most historic moment in the history of our country. The problems can be solved. In my judgment, the free world can move forward to a better life for all of the people of the world, if we in this country take the leadership which we are destined to take.

So with the leaders we have selected—the leaders the people of our country have selected, and for whom it is our privilege today to cast our ballots, I believe we can look forward through the immediate difficulties to a brighter future. And as we look back on this day, I believe we will take great pride in knowing that we in our small way have played a part in the great history of our country, and the great part which our country will take. (Applause)

THE PERMANENT PRESIDENT, MR. PRENDERGAST:

Thank you, Governor.

It gives me a great deal of pleasure to introduce to you another distinguished member of the Democratic Party—a gentleman who has proven himself for his ability and integrity, and naturally he has the confidence of the majority of the people of this State, and it is with a great deal of pleasure I present to you the Comptroller of the State of New York, the Honorable Arthur Levitt. (Applause)

HONORABLE ARTHUR LEVITT:

Mr. President, this is a high honor you pay me. I am deeply grateful too for the privilege of serving as an Elector in such august company. As the former Governors have stated, this is truly a historic occasion. I am very happy to be a part of the important deliberations taking place here.

THE PERMANENT PRESIDENT, MR. PRENDERGAST:

Now, we come to the purpose of this historical meeting whereby you, as Electors, will be privileged to cast your vote for the President and Vice President of the United States.

The Chair again recognizes the Honorable Arthur Levitt for the purpose of a motion.

HONORABLE ARTHUR LEVITT:

Mr. President, I have the honor now to move that we do now proceed with the balloting for the Office of President of the United States.

THE PERMANENT PRESIDENT, MR. PRENDERGAST:

The Chair recognizes Senator Lehman.

HONORABLE HERBERT H. LEHMAN:

It is a great pleasure to second the motion just made—that the Electors now proceed with the election of the President of the United States.

THE PERMANENT PRESIDENT, MR. PRENDERGAST:

A motion has been duly made and seconded that we proceed with the election of the President of the United States.

All those in favor say aye. (Chorus of ayes) Contrary minded? (None) It is so carried.

The Chair at this time appoints as Tellers the Honorable Frank R. Barbarita of Putnam County, and the Honorable Frank E. Barry of Onondaga County to act as Tellers. I request that they take their positions on each side of the ballot box which is located in the center of the oval.

The Chair now recognizes the Honorable R. Risley Dent, Jr.

HONORABLE R. RISLEY DENT, JR.:

May I suggest that the ballot box be taken to the Permanent President of the College, The Honorable Michael H. Prendergast, so that he may cast the first ballot for President of the United States.

THE PERMANENT PRESIDENT, MR. PRENDERGAST:

Mr. Dent, I appreciate the honor.

You all have these cards; this is your official ballot with the name of John F. Kennedy imprinted upon it. When the ballot box is placed in the center of the oval you will be asked to come up and drop the one card in. We vote separately for President and Vice President. If you will put your name on this ballot, it will be returned to you as a souvenir of the proceedings had this afternoon.

(After Balloting)

THE PERMANENT PRESIDENT, MR. PRENDERGAST:

Has everyone voted? Will you gentlemen count the ballots?

HONORABLE FRANK E. BARRY:

It is my privilege and honor to announce that forty-five votes were cast unanimously for John F. Kennedy for President of these United States.

THE PERMANENT PRESIDENT, MR. PRENDERGAST:

The Chair at this time recognizes the Honorable Rose Dollinger of Bronx County.

HONORABLE ROSE DOLLINGER:

I offer the following resolution: That we now proceed with the balloting for Vice President of the United States.

THE PERMANENT PRESIDENT, MR. PRENDERGAST:

The Chair recognizes the Honorable Edythe Cashmore for the purpose of seconding the nomination.

HONORABLE EDYTHE CASHMORE:

I take pleasure in seconding the motion that we proceed with the balloting for Vice President of the United States.

THE PERMANENT PRESIDENT, MR. PRENDERGAST:

You have heard the motion. All those in favor indicate in the usual manner. (Chorus of ayes) So carried.

The next order of business will be balloting for Vice President of the United States. Sign your names to the cards so they may be returned to you. We will proceed with the balloting in the same manner as we did for the Presidency.

(After Balloting)

THE PERMANENT PRESIDENT, MR. PRENDERGAST:

Will the Tellers count the ballots?

The Chair recognizes the Honorable Frank R. Barbarita.

HONORABLE FRANK R. BARBARITA:

Mr. President, after counting the ballots cast here, we, the Tellers, find forty-five votes for Lyndon B. Johnson, for Vice President of the United States.

THE PERMANENT PRESIDENT, MR. PRENDERGAST:

It is therefore my privilege to announce for the record that the entire membership of this Electoral College of the State of New York has cast their ballots for John F. Kennedy for President and Lyndon B. Johnson for Vice President.

THE PERMANENT PRESIDENT, MR. PRENDERGAST:

It will be necessary at this point for each member of the Electoral College to proceed to this platform to sign the necessary papers, which under the law you are required to do.

(Electors affix their signatures to documents)

I have been informed that all of the Electors have signed the petitions.

The Chair at this time recognizes the Honorable Joseph Spadaro.

HONORABLE JOSEPH SPADARO:

Mr. President, I offer the motion that the Permanent Secretaries be authorized and directed to file or cause to be filed the certificates, which we have now signed, with the President of the United States Senate, the Secretary of State of New York, the Judge of the United States District Court for the Northern District of New York, and the Administrator of General Services of the United States Government.

THE PERMANENT PRESIDENT, MR. PRENDERGAST:

The Chair recognizes the Honorable John J. Lynch of Kings County.

HONORABLE JOHN J. LYNCH:

I second the motion made by the Honorable Joseph Spadaro.

THE PERMANENT PRESIDENT, MR. PRENDERGAST:

You have heard the motion. All those in favor indicate in the usual manner. (Chorus of ayes) Contrary? (None) So carried.

I would like to announce that CBS on January 5th, ten p. m., will have a program which will include part of the proceedings of this meeting. Bill Leonard is here and he has been kind enough to tell me that you are all being photographed at one time or another. The date again is January 5th, ten p. m.

The Chair recognizes at this time the Honorable Julio Flores.

HONORABLE JULIO FLORES:

I move that copies of today's proceedings of the Electoral College proceedings be printed, bound, and distributed to the members of the College.

THE PERMANENT PRESIDENT, MR. PRENDERGAST:

The Chair recognizes the Honorable James T. Healey of Albany.

HONORABLE JAMES T. HEALEY:

Mr. President, it is my privilege to second Mr. Flore's motion.

THE PERMANENT PRESIDENT, MR. PRENDERGAST:

Thank you. All those in favor of the motion, please indicate in the usual manner. (Chorus of ayes) Contrary? (None) So carried.

The Chair at this time recognizes the Honorable Lilyan Stark.

HONORABLE LILYAN STARK:

Mr. President, I move that you appoint a committee from the members of this College to represent the Electors of New York State in meetings with Electors of other states, as well as in all matters pertaining to the inauguration ceremonies in Washington in January.

THE PERMANENT PRESIDENT, MR. PRENDERGAST:

Thank you. The Chair recognizes the Honorable Arthur Rosencrans.

HONORABLE ARTHUR ROSENCRANS:

Risley Dent, Jr., of Kings County, and the Honorable Mae Gurevich of Bronx County.

You have heard the motion. All those in favor indicate in the usual manner. (Chorus of ayes) Contrary? (None) So carried.

The Chair recognizes at this time the Honorable Walter Ward of Queens County.

HONORABLE WALTER WARD:

It is my pleasure to move that the President, Secretaries, and Officers of the College, be thanked for their services.

THE PERMANENT PRESIDENT, MR. PRENDERGAST:

Thank you, sir.

The Chair recognizes the Honorable Joseph J. DeMonte of Queens County.

HONORABLE JOSEPH J. DEMONTE:

I second the motion Mr. Ward offered.

THE PERMANENT PRESIDENT, MR. PRENDERGAST:

Thank you, sir. All those in favor of the motion, please indicate in the usual manner. (Chorus of ayes) Contrary? (None) Motion is carried.

I think at this point, and in behalf of the other officers of this meeting, I can extend our thanks to you for your kindness in offering the resolutions, for your vote, and for your cooperation here today.

At this time it gives me a great deal of pleasure to present to you, for the purpose of a resolution, a gentleman who has distinguished himself in the Democratic Party in the State of New York as a former Secretary of State, and also as a very good friend, the Honorable Carmine G. DeSapio. (Applause)

HONORABLE CARMINE G. DESAPIO:

Mr. President, Reverend Clergy, Mrs. Simon, Members of the College: In 1956 I was accorded the distinct honor and privilege of participating in this type of a ceremony, and I can fully appreciate the deliberations and the burdens imposed upon the present Secretary of State, and the pressure under which she has to labor under these circumstances.

I believe that the Electors, who have made a contribution on behalf of the people of the State of New York, should look forward to this historic occasion because, if memory serves me correctly, not since 1944 have the Democrats had an opportunity to assemble here under these auspices in New York State.

I think it is fitting and proper at this particular time, and on behalf of the members of the College, to extend to the Secretary of State our genuine and sincere thanks and appreciation for the hospitality and courtesy that she has extended to us today.

Thank you very much.

THE PERMANENT PRESIDENT, MR. PRENDERGAST:

The Chair recognizes the Honorable Harry Fogler of Bronx County.

HONORABLE HARRY FOGLER:

I take great pleasure in seconding Mr. DeSapio's motion.

THE PERMANENT PRESIDENT, MR. PRENDERGAST:

Thank you. You have heard the motion. All those in favor please indicate in the usual manner. (Chorus of ayes) Contrary? (None) So carried.

At this time the Chair recognizes the Minority Leader of the State Senate, the Honorable Joseph Zaretzki.

HONORABLE JOSEPH ZARETZKI:

Mr. Chairman, I move that we thank the President of the New York State Senate for the use of this beautiful Chamber.

THE PERMANENT PRESIDENT, MR. PRENDERGAST:

Thank you, sir.

The Chair recognizes the Honorable Paul R. Hays of New York County.

HONORABLE PAUL R. HAYS:

I second the motion of the distinguished Senator.

THE PERMANENT PRESIDENT, MR. PRENDERGAST:

Thank you, sir.

You have heard the motion. All those in favor please indicate in the usual manner. (Chorus of ayes) Contrary? (None) So carried.

I would like to suggest that the Permanent Secretaries write an appropriate letter of thanks to the President of the Senate enclosing a copy of this resolution that has been passed here this afternoon.

At this time the Chair recognizes the Honorable Charles A. Buckley, Jr., of Bronx County.

HONORABLE CHARLES A. BUCKLEY, JR.:

Mr. Chairman, I rise to move that the Electors of this College unanimously agree to donate their fees as Electors to the Warm Springs Foundation in Georgia; and that the Honorable Daniel V. Sullivan be designated to see that the fees are forwarded to them.

HONORABLE WILLIAM H. MORGAN:

I second the motion.

THE PERMANENT PRESIDENT, MR. PRENDERGAST:

It has been the precedent of this College for the Electors to donate the fees paid to us for being here to some charity.

I think Mr. Buckley's resolution is appropriate, and I am grateful to him and to Mr. Morgan for seconding it.

At this time I would like to present the motion to you for vote—that these fees which are paid to us as Electors be donated to the Warm Springs Foundation. All those in favor of the resolution, please indicate in the usual manner. (Chorus of ayes) Contrary? (None) It is so carried. The necessary arrangements for all of that will be carried out. Mr. Sullivan will be cooperating with Mrs. Simon's office.

Are there any further resolutions to be offered here this afternoon? (None) If not, I would like to recognize the Honorable Edward D. Re of Kings County.

HONORABLE EDWARD D. RE:

Mr. President, I move that the 1960 Electoral College of New York State be adjourned.

THE PERMANENT PRESIDENT, MR. PRENDERGAST:

The Chair recognizes the Honorable Robert S. Benjamin of Nassau County.

HONORABLE ROBERT S. BENJAMIN:

I second the motion that we adjourn, Mr. President.

THE PERMANENT PRESIDENT, MR. PRENDERGAST:

You have heard the motion. All those in favor, please indicate in the usual manner. (Chorus of ayes) Contrary? (None) So ordered.

We, assembled here this afternoon, are certainly grateful for the presence of the Reverend Richard Hughes, Executive Secretary of the Federation of Churches of Rochester, and I would like to call upon him to offer the benediction. Reverend Hughes.

REVEREND RICHARD HUGHES:

Let us pray.

Save the Lord build the city, they labor in vain that build it. Save the Lord watch the city, the watchmen watch in vain. Eternal God who hath majesty and dominion over all that is and all that is yet to be, it is Thou Who are the Lord of history, and in Thy hands lies the destiny of all men and of the nations of mankind.

At the conclusion of these ceremonies, which mark the formal recognition of the electoral will of the people of our State, we are grateful for these ordered procedures which denote tranquility and acceptance of the popular will.

We are grateful to Thee, O God, that under Thy provident care our Nation has achieved a framework of government which gives to each person within our Republic great privilege and equally great responsibility. May justice and integrity and a high acceptance of personal responsibility ever be the driving concern of our citizens.

May the people by deportment from the exercise of mature judgment conceive and advance the growth of sound and equitable government of, by, and for the people.

We are mindful in this solemn hour of our Nation's life, of the grave responsibilities which the burdens of office place upon Thy servant, John Fitzgerald Kennedy. We pray for him that he may be granted strength for the duties of each day—that in the austere loneliness of high office he may be granted wisdom and opportunity for sober reflection on the threshold of each important and fateful decision.

May he serve Thy people by first serving truth and justice. May he love mercy and walk humbly with Thee. And in the tumult and anxiety of our times may he serve a Nation whose people are rededicated to the task of meeting alarm and struggle in quietness and confidence.

Cleanse our minds from narrow attitudes. Give to us a concern for the total welfare of the whole people lest our selfishness, distorted understanding, or arrogance, frustrate the high purpose of the Presidential Office.

And now may the Lord bless us. The Lord maketh his face to shine upon us. Be gracious unto the Lord. Give the light of His countenance upon us, and give us peace now and forever more. Amen.

THE PERMANENT PRESIDENT, MR. PRENDERGAST:

Thank you, Reverend Hughes.

May I say to you in conclusion, ladies and gentlemen, that I know I speak for you when I say we are very grateful to Mrs. Simon and her staff, and to the President of the Senate, and to some of his people who are with us today, to the members of the State Police, to Governor Rockefeller and his people for making our task easier, and making it as comfortable as possible.

May I wish each and every one a very happy and blessed Christmas, and a healthy and prosperous New Year.

I now declare the 1960 Electoral College Meeting of New York State adjourned.

(At 4:20 p. m. o'clock, the proceedings were concluded.)
